OKANA is a world-class resort and indoor waterpark for guests of all ages. Inspired by the Chickasaw words oka', meaning water, and inkana', meaning friend, the name recalls the strong links among the Chickasaw people, the okhina', navigable waterways in the Homeland, and the friends welcomed into our historic villages.

A celebration of Indigenous people and culture, OKANA is deeply connected to the Chickasaw Nation and is a close partner to First Americans Museum (FAM). OKANA brings unforgettable entertainment, education, hospitality, relaxation, and culture experiences to Oklahoma City for visitors close to home and across the world.

MORE TO DO — MORE TO LOVE

AMPHITHEATERS AND LAWN

The landscaped amphitheaters — one facing the Oklahoma River and another facing the OKANA Lagoon — and their accompanying event lawn will provide an idyllic venue for outdoor events. The amphitheaters will serve as public amenities.

The amphitheaters will feature two open-air stages. These venues will complement the First Americans Museum's programming, bringing musical artists, festivals, and theatrical performances for museum and resort guests to enjoy.

FIRST AMERICANS RETAIL ART GALLERY

Guests can learn about the rich culture of First Americans at Exhibit C Gallery, a 10,000 sq. ft. First Americans retail art gallery set to also open in 2025.

The reimagined First Americans retail art gallery will feature a multi-use gallery space and up to seven rental art studios for First American artists. The gallery space will work collaboratively to partner with FAM to complement the programs and activities already at the museum.
